

I am strongly in favor of the strictist rules being applied to telemarketers. It is an invasion of privacy not to mention one of the most annoying and irritating nuisances. I resent the constant interruptions and will never order from a telemarketer again. Why can't there be an opt-in system instead of an opt out system. Put the burden on them--not us.